Out of sight – Out of mind

Or, conversely, "in sight—in mind". Expolinc has dedicated itself to the development of effective communication tools. This translates into large poster walls that serve to create impact and redirect attention to your message. It also translates into small easily placed banner systems, counters, and brochure stands.

Portability

Being able to meet with people on the spot always gives added dimension to meetings and increases the probability of positive results. It is for this reason that we have focused on light-weight portable displays, displays that can always be taken along to reinforce your message. Portability is one of the most vital keystones in our product concept, because this makes it possible to exploit the advantages of the system any-time, anywhere.

Quality

Our products also meet the quality specifications demanded of display systems that must be used time and time again. Additional information about our quality guarantee can be found on page 23 in our brochure.
